

can we

can we ever really
forgive each other
for not doing
the impossible
for not seeing
who we really are
at the moments
when it matters most
when we are naked
alone
and want more than anything else
to be seen
touched

Bill Eberle

fall of 2005 or winter of 2006

© 2005, 2006 William C. Eberle