the universe lights up
inside of me
and my eyes shine with wonder

you probably see it
there

my thinking
this can't be happening

the whole of everything inside of this little space of me

and the old one laughing and you see
wonder change to simple happiness

God whispering in my ear foolish man
what do you think the smile of this wonderful woman is for
